FROSH BEAT 'OLDSTERS'

Liberation Day Events Muddy

Upperclassmen were caked with mud as they left the playing field Saturday following their defeat by the freshman forces.

The mud was a result of the sophomore, senior and junior team's loss in a tug-of-war with the newly arrived students.

About 300 persons attended the liberation day games, which included, as well as the tug-o-war, a pushball contest.

The frosh also won the pushball game by a 1-0 score after two hours.

THE GAMES started at 1:45 p.m., with the pushball contest.

Grunting, the two sides shoved against the heavy six-foot-in-diameter ball.

"At one time, I couldn't see the man on the other side of the team because of the dust," one of the upperclassmen reported later.

Freshmen finally got the best of the upperclassmen, who were led by Union officers Martin Hull, Mike Berry and Jack Utz.

John Bridges, varsity football player who refereed the pushball contest, said "I'd rather face the whole Houston line than get in this one."

School Kids See WTVS In Action

Detroit city school children viewed television in their classrooms for the first time yesterday.

The initial program of WTVS-Channel 56, with its theme of child guidance, had as its subject "How to Get a Job." It had school children portraying what an applicant needs to know and do to get hired.

THE INITIAL program at 9:45 a.m. yesterday had something of interest for nearly every school child and the community as well, Detroit school teachers agreed.

An afternoon program, between 2 and 2:30 p.m. was devoted to health.

The station is a joint venture of 18 organizations including U-D of the non-profit Detroit Education Television Foundation.

WTVS cannot be received on a normal television set unless the set is converted or built for UHF reception. Frank X. Tuohey, Wayne U. public relations director, estimates the average set owner will have to spend about 20 dollars for conversion.

Until Oct. 24 there will be only two daily telecasts on an experimental basis.

On that date the station will go into fuller operation with programs from the other members of the foundation telecasting from 8 to 10 p.m. nightly.

The telecast will be entertaining as well as informative. One production will be based on the former "Information Please" Program, according to William Rabe, U-D public relations director.

THEN the fire department wetted down a spot in the field.

And using a rope provided by the police department's tug-o-war team, the two teams went at it again, with each team starting on either side of the puddle.

Gruntingly, the upperclassmen held on for awhile.

But youthful vigor finally prevailed, and the oldsters went into the mud.

DEvised AND sponsored by the Student Union, the Freshman Liberation Day was revived after a period of three years. The prior one was held in the Memorial building.

Following the tug-o-war, cokes were served by the Union.

Plans are being made to have a rematch after snow covers the ground.

"Sort of a Snowbowl," Marty Hull, Union president, commented. "Hearty souls will be invited. Possibly showers can be arranged for use after the game."

'55 Yearbooks Still Available

1955 Towers are still available in the Tower office for those students who have not obtained theirs.

After this week students will have to pay a 25 cent carrying fee to get their book, according to Dorean Hurley, Tower editor.

DEAN OF MEN ASKS

Ease Parking Problem; Form More Car Pools

The Dean of Men, Rev. Edward J. O'Connor, S.J., today urged the student body to form more "car pools" in an effort to ease the parking situation.

At present there are two car pools servicing the campus the Grosse Pointe and East Side car pools.

OTHER such organizations from Dearborn, St. Clair Shores and other outlying areas are in the formative stages.

Any information as how to get into or form such a group will be supplied by Joseph Yott, Asst. to the Dean of Men.

Parking facilities have diminished since last year due to the addition of faculty parking lots. These lots were necessary because of the increased faculty personnel at the University.

PARKING will not be allowed in the stadium lot between 8 and 9:45 a.m. Friday mornings because the new Army ROTC drill program is permitted to use the field during that time. The program was approved by the Rev. Hugh Smith, S.J., academic vice-president.

"This will not interfere with normal student parking," says Thomas Emmet, assistant dean of men. He pointed out "there are not many students on the campus at that particular time on Fridays."

Emmet said one solution to the parking problem is to park closer to each other. Too much space is being wasted, he said.

Boes Army Head

Cadet Col Richard W. Boes was named Regimental Commander of the ROTC. Boes is responsible for the appointments of the other cadet officers.

Return Those Queen Entries By Thursday

Names of Homecoming Queen candidates must be submitted to the Dean of Men's office by sponsoring organizations no later than 5 p.m. Thursday.

Bob Wiseman, Homecoming publicity chairman, emphasizes that no candidate will be accepted after this date.

Candidates must have their pictures taken either Friday or Saturday by Ed Haun, official Homecoming photographer.

He can be reached in the TV studio office, third floor of the Library, from 6 to 8 p.m. both days.

No candidate will be allowed to run if pictures have not been taken on these dates.

First-semester freshman coeds are not eligible for Queen competition this year. Candidates must be at least second semester freshman students.

They must also be carrying a minimum of 12 credit hours, and maintaining a 2.0 average. Previously the contest was limited to-freshmen.

Army ROTC 'Rifles' Name New Leaders

The Army ROTC and the "Rifles" began organizing this week.

Promotions were made in preparation for organization of a three-battalion regiment. Cadet Lt. Col. Richard W. Boes was promoted to cadet colonel; Cadet Capt. Marion J. Balcerzak to major; and Lt. Gerald Ziembra to captain.

Cadet Major Marion J. Balcerzak was named executive officer and Cadet Capt. James F. Panaretos, personnel officer.

The "Rifles" elected Cadet Col. Richard W. Boes, president. Cadet 2nd Lt. Ruben Ramirez was elected vice-president. Cadet Master Sgts. Philip Sievers and Stephen Jacobs were elected treasurer and secretary.

Need 10 Cadets

Ten more cadets are needed to drill every Sunday from to drill with the "Rifles" every Sunday from 8 a.m. till noon, according to Capt. William W. Ford of the ROTC staff. Sgt. Fred E. Farris is coach.

Carny Choice Wins Again

Danny Thomas, U-D's American of the Year in 1954, was back in Detroit yesterday to add one more award to the many he already has received.

Thomas, who got his start at neighborhood theaters in our town, was here to receive the "Knights of Charity" award from the Friends of the Missionaries of Saints Peter and Paul.

Speaking before the organization, Thomas' words were reminiscent of the ones he spoke at the 1954 Spring Carnival when thousands cheered, then joined him in singing "God Bless America."

"No man has lived a lifetime without wanting to do something for somebody else," he said. "If he can be led on how to do it, then he will give."

"Joe Glutz down in the neighborhood can get people to give but not on a national scale. That's where I come in, and others in my field."

Radio Guild Appoints 8 Announcers

The U-D Broadcasting Guild recently appointed eight new members to its announcing staff.

They are: Julianne Ehrent, Don Cornelli, Bob Wallak, Bill Smith, Barbara Feehan, Dave Greenwald, Kathleen Schulte, and Gary Woditsch.

They were chosen from a group of forty applicants. Basis for their decision were voice diction, voice projection and personality.

Duties will include work on the three shows the Guild produces; "U-D News Report," "Radio Magazine," and "Showtime."

The shows will offer the new staff a variety of experience and a chance to work with such stars as George Gobel, James Cagney, Rise Stevens and Harry Belafonte.

WTVS Announces Wood As Director

The appointment of William A. Wood as managing director of WTVS has been announced by the Detroit Educational Television Foundation.

A veteran of radio and television, Wood assumed the position on the eve of the yesterday's first telecast, an experimental effort viewed by Detroit school children.

A graduate of Stanford University, Wood has worked for NBC radio in San Francisco, CBS in Washington, D. C., and ABC in Boston.

He was in charge of the first coast-to-coast television hook-up, the signing of the peace treaty at San Francisco with Japan.

"I've always worked in news and public service broadcasting," said Wood, "but this educational television is a real challenge—one I couldn't pass up."

General manager of educational television in Pittsburgh before his Detroit appointment, Wood said that a program called "Children's Corner" has an audience of 100,000.

There are approximately 32,000 sets in Detroit that can receive WTVS' ultra-frequency programs.

Talking about his most recent challenge, Wood said, "This is going to be a big thing, so it may take a while to catch on."

Freund Paper Is Published

An article entitled "For a Professional Man Ethics Are the Prime Essential," by Professor Clement J. Freund, Dean of Engineering, appeared in the September issue of "The American Engineer."

The magazine is the official organ of the National Society of Professional Engineers.

The article expresses the belief that . . . the most difficult technique in the world does not in itself make a man professional. The principle requirement for a professional standing is to minister to the public.

"The professional man who administers to the public must be morally responsible. He must be trustworthy. That is, he must be ethical. This is particularly important because the public knows nothing about professional technology. The citizen is completely at the mercy of the professional man."

Aero Grad Sets Glider Record

A University aeronautical engineering graduate, Paul Bikle, set a new national glider distance of 270 miles, August 7 at Palmdale, California.

Now a civilian worker at nearby Edwards Air Force Base, Bikle was competing in the 1955 Southwestern Soaring Regatta. He broke the record of 260 miles set by William H. Cloverdale of Philadelphia in 1952.

Bikle was aloft 8 hours and 10 minutes and reached an altitude of 13,000 feet.

Band Steps To Music Of Past Bands

The University Band marched out the history of band music during the Detroit-Wichita football game last Friday night.

First figure formed was a drum, followed by a reed and a French horn, which illustrated the development of musical instruments.

Next on the program was the formation of an elephant bringing to mind Hannibal and his elephants crossing the Alps, symbolic of the influence of band music by the military.

The chorus and band will combine to stage this Friday's half time show.

Engineering Grads Are Young, Rich

The youngest engineering graduates since World War II are making $17 more per month than graduates a year ago.

The average age of engineering graduates for the year 1955 is 23.9 and in addition to earning more money than last year's engineering graduates, they also average 17 percent more than other University graduates, announced the Department of Coordination and Placement.

VETERANS constituted 15 percent of the class, compared with 30 percent last year. Four percent of the graduates entered military service immediately upon graduation.

Three-quarters of the graduates declared that their jobs were in line with their career objectives while one-third remained with their cooperative employers.

The University helped 80 percent of the students to obtain their present positions.

ALL but 15 percent of the engineering graduates were employed at commencement time.

Scholarships Being Offered

Fulbright scholarships to 36 countries are now being offered to those students who are United States citizens and who are in their junior year. Additional scholarships are also being offered in the various graduate fields.

Applications must be in by Nov. 1, 1955. Further information may be obtained by seeing Fr. Hugh Smith, S.J., University vice-president.

These one year scholarships are sponsored as an international exchange program and are under the jurisdiction of a ten-man membership board that is appointed by the President as being outstanding people in their fields.

The Fulbright scholarships, named after Senator Fulbright, are officially called "United States Government Grants under the Fulbright Act."

Book Exchange Opens for Returns

The Book Exchange will be open from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. tonight, Wednesday and Thursday. It will be open days this week from 10 to 4:15. Checks and/or books will be forfeited if not picked up, the Student Book Exchange committee has warned.

ANYONE FOR FOOTBALL?

Pancho Sigafos, pale and sensitive, first saw Willa Ludovic, lithe as a hazel wand and fair as the morn, outside a class in money and banking. "Let us not hem and haw," said Pancho to Willa. "I adore you."

"Thanks, hey," said Willa, blushing prettily. "What position do you play?"

"Position?" said Pancho, looking at her askance. (The askance is a ligament just behind the ear.)

"On the football team," said Willa.

"Football!" cried Pancho, his lip curling in horror. "Football is violence, and violence is the death of the mind. I am not a football player. I am a poet."

"So long, mac," said Willa.

"Wait!" cried Pancho, clutching her lissome young forearm. She placed her foot on his pelvis and wrenched herself free.

"I only go with football players," she said and walked, shimmering, into the setting sun.

Pancho went to his room and lit a cigarette and pondered his vexing problem. What kind of cigarette did Pancho light? Why, Philip Morris, of corris!

Philip Morris is always welcome, but never more than when you are weary and sore beset. When a fellow needs a friend, when the heart is dull and the blood runs like sorghum, when darkness prevails, then, then above all, is the time for the mildness and gentleness that only Philip Morris can provide.

Pancho Sigafos, his broken psyche welded, his fevered brow cooled, his synapses restored after smoking a gentle Philip Morris, came swiftly to a decision. Though he was rather small for football (an even four feet) and somewhat overweight (370 pounds) he tried out for the team—and tried out with such pluck and perseverance that he made it.

Pancho's college opened the season against the Manhattan School of Mines. The Miners were always a mettlesome foe, but this year, strengthened by four exchange students from Gibraltar who had been suckled by she-apes, they were especially formidable. By the middle of the second quarter, the Miners had wrought such havoc upon Pancho's team that there was nobody left on the bench but Pancho. And when the quarterback was sent to the infirmary with his head driven into his ribcage, the coach had no choice but to put Pancho in.

Pancho's team-mates were not conspicuously cheered as the little fellow took his place in the huddle. "Gentlemen," said Pancho, "some of you may regard poetry as sissy stuff, but now in our most trying hour I can think of no words more apt than these lines from Milton's Paradise Lost: 'All is not lost; the unconquerable will and study of revenge, immortal hate, and courage never to submit or yield!'"

So stirred was Pancho's team by this fiery exhortation that they threw themselves into the fray with utter abandon.

As a consequence, the entire squad was hospitalized before the half. The college was forced to drop football. Willa Ludovic, not having any football players to choose from, took up with Pancho and soon discovered the beauty of his soul. Today they are seen everywhere together—dancing, holding hands, smoking, smooching.

Smoking what? Why, Philip Morris, of corris!

Language Profs Meet Saturday For Discussion

The Catholic Association of Foreign Language Teachers will meet at the University on Saturday.

The Very Reverend Celestin J. Steiner, S. J. will welcome the delegates to the fall session. Dr. Jose E. Espinosa, vice-chairman of the Dept. of Modern Languages and president of the association will be the meeting chairman.

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. Yes; only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know; without looking, that it even had a filter tip; and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette; that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

Tiny Filter Traps... plus that Real Tobacco Taste

More than 80 members of the association are expected to attend, representing 21 high schools, nine colleges and two universities of Ohio and Michigan.

The problems of training future instructors in foreign languages will be the consideration of a panel discussion.

Dr. J. J. Peirolo, professor of English and Italian at John Carroll University, Cleveland, Ohio will be the chairman of the panel.

Members of the panel include Sister M. Bertrand, O. F., chairman of the department of Modern Languages at Aquinas College, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Sister Laurine, O. F., professor of Latin at Marygrove; and Dr. J. Edouard Comeau, assistant professor of French at the University of Detroit.

Student Groups Asked to Enter Quartet Contest

Preparations for the third annual Barbershop Quartet Contest were begun today.

Ed LaBuda, contest chairman, urged all campus organizations to turn in their applications promptly.

The contest, sponsored by Kappa Sigma Epsilon, will be held the week of Nov. 14.

Finals will be held at the Harmony Hall, Nov. 18.

AN AMAZING MATHEMATICIAN

Blindness Doesn't Stop Prof From Helping Us

We have a remarkable man on our faculty. He's Abraham Nemeth, a 35-year-old mathematician who has been blind since birth.

His preparation for class is, of course, quite different than that of the ordinary professor. He types his work on index cards with a six-key braille typewriter.

Numbers are punched through the cards in braille form. In class he translates them onto the board.

He uses a certain code in his system of typing mathematics, a code good enough to be nationally recognized as the "Nemeth Code of Braille Mathematics Notation."

His problems in working out the system: His typewriter wouldn't allow him to type the system vertically, as would have to be done for arithmetic. He had to figure out a way of doing it horizontally. He did. It turned out to be an ingenious discovery.

But it isn't only his method of teaching that makes students admire, respect... like him.

When he talks to you, his friendliness reaches you in a very special way. It is the friendliness of a man who wants to be near students, the friendliness of a man who takes pride in his work, in your work.

Dent School Moves Into New Quarters

Renovation of the Dental School's surgery section nears completion and facilities that are considered the most modern and complete in the nation are being moved into this week.

Featuring air-conditioning, fine paneling, and enlarged observation areas, the school affords extra room beneficial to both students and instructors.

The quarters include the old X-ray department, three rooms and a darkroom, according to Miss Jean Glass, a nurse in oral surgery.

Appoint Head Of Engineer's Annual Dinner

Chester Kordel has been appointed general chairman of the 1956 Slide Rule Dinner, scheduled for March 22.

He was named by George LaPalm, Engineering Student Council president.

Prof. George M. Kurajian, assistant professor of engineering mechanics, will be moderator.

KORDEL, a native Detroit, is a member of Tuyere, engineering social fraternity, and is a candidate to Chi Epsilon, honorary civil engineering fraternity.

He was a class officer in his pre-senior year and is secretary of the American Society of Civil Engineers, student chapter.

A member of the AFROTC four years, Kordel recently was appointed chief of staff. Engineering students are asked to sign up for dinner committees. A volunteers' list is posted on the Engineering bulletin board.

AF Seniors To Receive Flight Badges

The following senior AFROTC Cadets planning to go into flight training will be presented with the Senior Preflight Badge, a silver half-wing:

Wing Commander Richard F. Abel, Ronald F. Birou, Walter Burger, James Cantrell, Constantine Carson, Earl Clark, William Crowe, August Exner, Herald Farrell, Stephen Gomola, Robert Jewell, Chester Kordel and Lee Lair.

'America' Editor To Return Next Semester

Rev. Robert C. Hartnett, after seven years as editor of the national Jesuit news weekly, America, will return next semester to his position in the University political science department.

Fr. Hartnett's experience as an educator includes five years in the English department and Political Science department, which he established in 1946. He left the University in 1948 to take up editorial duties on America and the Catholic Mind.

Fr. Hartnett was born in Escanaba in 1904. He studied at Loyola University, Chicago and Heythrop College, England, where he was ordained in 1938. He received his doctorate in philosophy at Fordham University in 1945.

Sodality: Edification

The Sodality is a way of life, a training which prepares a Catholic student to center the rest of his life around Jesus Christ, which gives him habits of life and an attitude of mind.

The Sodality is an apostolic organization founded by the Jesuit Order about 400 years ago. The first 200 years found the Sodality one of the strongest lay organizations in the Church.

For the past 200 years the Sodality has been in a slump and has been anything but what the Jesuit Order intended it to be: a challenge, practically a Third Order of the Society of Jesus, an army of young men and women who have the generosity and courage to give their lives to Christ in the LAY state, to put Christ into their every field of endeavor. More than that—to spend their lives as APOSTLES, living for OTHERS as well as themselves.

The Sodality at the University of Detroit is a four-year educational training program. The Candidate goes through a year of training and testing of his leadership qualities. The sophomore program consists in sending our people to different high schools in the city each week to help train their Sodalists.

The Juniors help work with the U of D candidates and bring them along in the Sodality Way of Life. The Seniors are prepared for the work-a-day world by a program which brings in prominent lay Catholics who have succeeded in integrating Christ with their everyday life.

What has the U of D Sodality done? Last year we had 150 of our members working in High School Sodalities in the city. At mid-year we put on the Annual TSSA (Training School of Sodality Action) when we played host to 300 nuns and 2000 high school students for two days.

This past summer we conducted sessions on this campus for 150 high school students for a 6 week period. The U of D. Sodalists were in charge of the Collegians' and Nurses' Sessions at the Summer School of Catholic Action in New York and Chicago.

The even split among men and women of the 300 Sodalists makes for many enjoyable socials during the year. Our "Rhapsody in Blue" dance for the whole school is our social highlight of the school year.

Much remains to be done on and off this campus. Jesus Christ needs APOSTLES, workers, and He is asking many of YOU students to GIVE of your energies, your time, yourselves.

Certainly out of 9000 students we have a good number of LEADERS. These are the people Christ wants. Where are they? Are you one of them? Do you want Christ? Takes too much time? One hour meeting each Wednesday night from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Science 116, plus an interview with Fr. Holland every two weeks in C & F, 201A.

Fr. Frank F. Holland, S.J.

Rebirth

Something was born on the University of Detroit campus Friday night. Or, perhaps it would be more accurate to say something was given a new birth. It isn't a thing that will go on any calendar as a date to be remembered. Only to us here is it even worth mentioning.

That something is spirit. Not the kind of spirit that is merely mouthed, but the active kind that stirs feeling and instills new faith.

Those who attended Friday night's football game are the best judges of the strength of that new spirit.

Skepticism threw a heavy veil over the U-D cheering section before the game began. And the men who took the field against the favored Wichita eleven had the formula.

By halftime, an aura of hope and anxiety pervaded that same cheering section. The skepticism was gone. By the time the final gun was sounded, it was obvious that there was a football squad to be reckoned with — and a student backing to match.

The whole course of events proved an important point in the philosophy of college life. All the edifying, inspiring speeches by college presidents and coaches won't bring faith and admiration to a grid eleven. But, put a group of men with an unquenchable desire to win on the field — men who make that desire evident in their play—and you have the solution.

Press Week

This week we again observe annual "National Newspaper" week, your "Right to Know" week.

"Freedom of the Press" has come to be accepted as a natural phenomena underlying our classic definitions of democracy and freedom.

For fifty-one weeks out of the year the editors who have fought, and even died for this precious privilege are left forgotten.

The Zengers and Lovejoys and Mellets who gave of themselves past the point of exhaustion, weariness, and faced even death in the preservation of freedom through freedom of the press may not be expressly remembered but their spirit lives on every day of the year in every edition of every newspaper throughout the world.

The Editors of newspapers do not need a National Press Week to remind them of their duty; they live with it constantly in the spirit and aura of a hard-won, hard-kept freedom.

But Press Week is for the other people, the readers, who may not understand the beauty, dignity, toil and quiet desperation that lies behind the maintenance of Freedom of the Press.

All may not understand or realize that there are weary and exhausted crusaders of this freedom sacrificing themselves at this time in countries behind the Iron Curtain.

The cause of Freedom of the Press is decidedly not an absolute thing that has been resolved once and for all. It is rather a living and continuous challenge to all aspirants of truth.

cunning and odd are man's ways

"Gentlemen," said the president of the packing-case company, "The key word in business today is diversification. If we are to survive, we must diversify. I called this meeting to plan some ready-made product we could turn the whole force of our research upon. Any suggestions?"

"J. B.," said a little man sporting a badge printed with the red word YES, "you're absolutely right. I suggest we make furniture. Lounge chairs, perhaps."

"No good," said the president. "It's much too difficult to make comfortable lounge chairs," as he settled in his lounge chair.

"In that case," said a lean, tall man, "why don't we make lecture hall chairs? Any fool can make those, and they don't even have to be comfortable."

"Brilliant suggestion," said J. B., "Agreed, gentlemen?"

"Agreed," said several others whose names are of no consequence.

"Here are the plans for the new lecture-hall chair," said the man wearing the white coat from the research department.

"Wonderful," said J. B., his eyes sparkling. "You deserve credit for this work."

The man in the white coat blushed, because he knew in his heart that his six-year-old daughter had drawn the plans the night before.

"But," said the president, "are you sure you double-checked everything. I suppose the back is nice and straight?"

"Straight as a stick!"

"And the arm is just wide enough to get a notebook on the edge?"

"And the base . . . low enough to the floor?"

"Not only that, but the conical shape keeps occupant's feet straight in front of him."

"Put it in production," said J. B.

"Here's a firm says they're selling lecture hall seats," said the third assistant to the architect of the new University Building, reading a small advertisement.

"What do they say about them?" said the architect, busying himself.

"They say they're cheap."

"Order 850."

"Look," said the third assistant to the architect, "by reducing the distance between the lecture-hall seats to eight inches we can squeeze in twelve more."

"Fine," said the architect, licking his lips and feeling pleased with himself, for he knew that the Officials would be thrilled with the extra capacity.

"I seem to have a slight head cold," said the professor to a colleague, "and I have to give my first lecture in the new hall tomorrow."

"Don't worry," said the colleague, wise in the ways of the world. "Just keep the ventilation turned off and you'll be all right."

"These seats are uncomfortable," said the short fat student as he struggled with his coat and books.

"Yeah," said his neighbor, twisting his long lanky legs around the base of the chair. He yawned.

"And it's stuffy in here," the short, fat one added.

"Huh? Whuzzat? ZZZzzz."

Theater Debuts

Detroit is slowly becoming a culture-minded city. Modern buildings are changing the face of our once unsightly waterfront; Riverama and free concerts are offered each summer; and now, a new playhouse invites the discriminating public.

Melody Circus, located on Grand River and Eight Mile, drew the flaps of its huge tent in June with the opening production of "Showboat." First nighters were entranced by the Ferber-Kern musical, and left well satisfied with Detroit's new open air theater-in-the-round. Opening night was successful and so were many nights afterward when they brought back old favorites such as "Carousel," "Song of Norway" and "Kiss Me Kate."

Melody Circus closed its summer season with the musical that took Broadway by storm, "South Pacific."

This playhouse made an exhilarating debut to our industrial town and Detroiters are waiting anxiously for next summer when the backyard lights of Botsford Inn will flicker again.

This new type production is a distinctive complement to veteran theaters, Shubert, Cass, World Stage and Will-O-Way.

Each summer Will-O-Way has presented an outstanding series of plays, but for the first time they will produce a winter variety beginning on Nov. 9 with "Dial M. for Murder." These and other plays will be reviewed by the Varsity News.

Have you noticed that students will open only one entrance door of the various building during rush periods?

Homecoming Committee Selected

Jim Virgilio has been named chairman of all Homecoming activities, announced Marty Hull, president of the Student Council, at a recent Council meeting.

Dick Lillenthal and Pete Moore have been appointed co-chairmen of the Queen Contest.

Plans are being made for the Homecoming Dance by co-chairmen Jerry Brennan and Sally Hull.

Bill Shanahan and Fran Kollar have been chosen as Homecoming Parade co-chairmen.

The Bonfire Bounce, held after the rally, will be handled by Jim Byrne and Julie McCarthy.

Mass Offered

At 9 a.m. Friday, Mass will be offered at Gesu Church for the intentions of the members of Sigma Delta Sorority.

This is the second annual Mass. Last year, the Mass was offered in thanksgiving for the recovery of the members who were injured in an automobile accident.

Scribes interview prospective Belles of their Ball to be held Saturday night at the rustic Clinton Inn in Greenfield Village. One young lady will be honored with the title of "Scribe's Belle" as the highlight of the evening's fun.

DPK 'Scribes Ball' Set for Clinton Inn

Members of Delta Pi Kappa, professional journalism fraternity, take pride in their ability to keep pace with modern times and thoughts.

They firmly believe in the future of such modern conveniences as atomic powered baby buggies, do-it-yourself space ship kits and wall to wall television.

WHEN it comes to dances, however, they turn nostalgically to days of the rumbling stagecoach and a picturesque roadside inn.

Such a setting will be the site again this year for the Scribes Ball.

Saturday night the Clinton Inn, located in historic Greenfield Village, will take on the festive air reminiscent of a by-gone era.

SUBSTITUTE dancing college students for roadside travelers, however. In place of the self-taught fidler put Tom Saunders and his orchestra, who play "music as you like it."

To one of the young ladies at the dance will go honor of being the first queen of the year. Faculty members will act as judges to decide upon the Scribes Belle. All girls in attendance are eligible.

Tradition surrounding the Scribes Ball is strong, but student opinion has forced one change. A semi-formal dance in the past, this year's affair will be informal.

"A TREND has developed among college students toward informal affairs, explains Delta Pi Kappa president, Tom Carruthers. "Members took an impromptu poll among students and found the majority favored the less expensive and more convenient informal dance."

One modern twist has been given this year's Scribes's Ball. Tickets have been printed in press card form. These may be purchased at the DPK booth in the corridor of the Commerce building or from any fraternity member.

Tickets for the dance, which starts at 9:30 p.m., cost $2.75 per couple.

Russell's Runs Wreck Wichita

By JOHN BUCKLEY
Sports Editor

"It looks like a new team."

These were the words of Lloyd Brazil, head of the athletic board of control and a Titan gridiron star in his heyday, after U-D's surprising upset of the Wichita Shockers, 41-0.

His words echoed the sentiments of all who saw or heard the game. The same Titans lost to lowly Toledo a week ago by a 12-7 count.

WITHIN THREE minutes of the first quarter the Titans had scored seven points and before the end of the game they had added 34 more.

The Titans, clad in their new uniforms, began their sparkling play on the kickoff. Jim Lynch took the kickoff on his own nine yard line and handed the ball off to Bill Russell who reversed his field and ran up the sidelines to the Wichita 38.

Detroit got up to the five and then fumbled. Tom Conway, Wichita quarterback, fumbled in the end zone and Stan Bartnicki fell on the ball for Detroit's first touchdown. Lynch converted.

WICHITA, unable to move on their set of plays, punted to the Detroit 29. The Titans went down the field on three first downs before Russell forced his way over from the 6 for his first of three touchdowns.

In the second quarter Detroit started out from its own 19. On a series of running and passing plays, quarterback Jim Lobkovich moved the ball to the Wichita 8 before Lynch carried the ball into the end zone. Lynch converted again. Halftime score—Detroit 20, Wichita 0.

In the third quarter Wichita was defenseless against the Titans. Russell took one of Lobkovich's passes for 41 yards and a touchdown behind the sharp blocking of right end Bob Chendes. Lynch added the extra point.

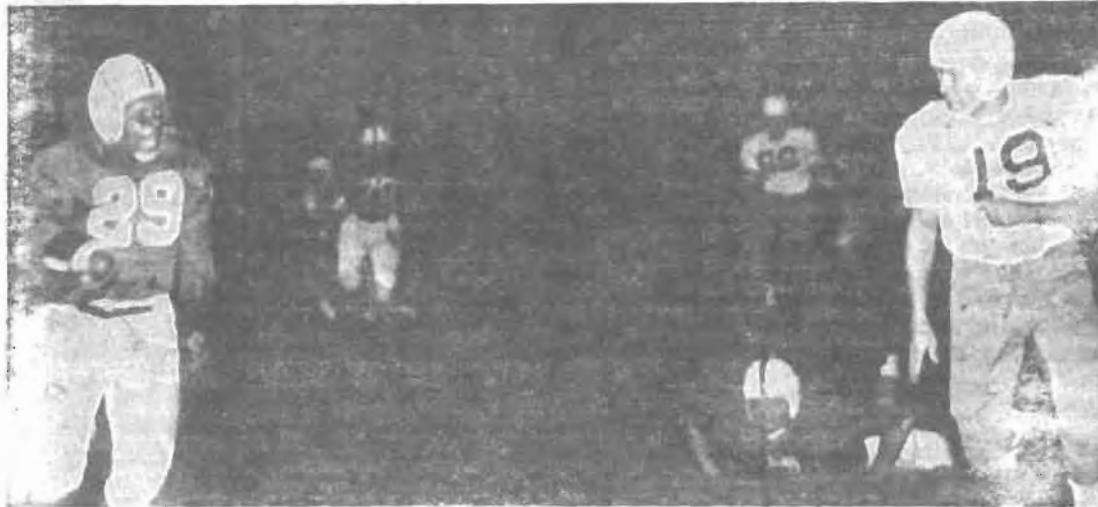

WICHITA RECEIVED the kickoff and had time for only one play. On the next play, halfback Jim Klisanin fumbled and Chendes recovered on the Wichita 19. Lobkovich carried the ball to the 13 and Russell went through center again for his third touchdown. Lynch converted for his tenth point of the game.

Wichita fumbled on its first play and Dick Chapman recovered the ball in the end zone. Korpak converted to make the score 41-0.

In the fourth quarter coach Wally Fromhart emptied the Titan bench. The reserves moved the ball to the Wichita 6 where they fumbled and had to be content to hold the Shockers at midfield until the final gun.

THE OUTSTANDING player of the game was Billy Russell, a sophomore from Donora, Pa. Besides scoring three touchdowns Friday, he now has a ground-gaining average of 7.56 per try from scrimmage. He also caught three passes in Friday night's game for 69 yards.

The Titans will get a chance to test their strength again this Friday when they take on the University of Houston, picked as the top team in the MVC.

Keglers Add League, Make Plans

There will be a meeting of the Independent Bowling League at 7:30 Wednesday, Oct. 5 in Room 283 of the Memorial Building.

Plans will be made for a ten team league. Each team will have a sponsor. Everyone on campus is eligible for this league. Also a new vice-president is to be elected. Jack Paulus is president of the league.

This year there will be a new league. An Inter-Fraternity League has been approved by the IFC and an organizational meeting will be held at 7:30 Thursday, Oct. 6 in Room 283 of the Memorial Building.

Joe Zainea who is in charge of the new league, said that each fraternity can enter a team in the league.

Both the Independent and the Inter-Fraternity League will be under the Intramural department. There will be a playoff between the two leagues at the end of bowling season.

The two leagues will jointly sponsor the Intercollegiate Bowling Tournament in the spring. Last spring 13 colleges participated in the tournament. It is the largest tournament of its kind in the United States.

Fencing

All freshmen and sophomores interested in Fencing should report to the boxing room in the Memorial Building on Monday, Wednesday, or Thursday after 5 p.m.

U-D Grid Veteran of 20's Adds Encouragement

The white-haired man sat in the locker room Friday night. Five minutes remained until game time. A squad of anxious Titan players surrounded him.

He realized things had changed since 1920 when he played center for U. of D.

The campus had expanded and so had the team, but one thing had never, and would never change—the spirit of a fighting team.

Thomas A. Kenny, one-time U. of D. center was re-enacting the scene familiar to him 35 years ago, but now, he was giving advice instead of taking it. He sat with the boys and told them how the "City of Detroit Was Behind Them." These words helped encourage the Titans to a smashing 41-0 victory over Wichita.

He told them the city would remember them. It had remembered him. It had helped him obtain his present position as Probate Judge.

There will be a Sailing Club meeting at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 6 in E 215.

Let's Look at the Titans

Today we are going to meet four more of the Titan starters, two linemen and two backfield men. The two linemen

Stan, 21, was an All-City performer at U-D High which won the city championship in 1949. He was switched from tackle to guard in 1954 where he saw a great deal of action last season.

WHILE HE was at U-D High he accumulated eight letters in football and baseball. Stan's biggest football thrill came last Friday when he recovered a Wichita fumble in the end zone for a touchdown. Stan is a senior majoring in General Business. He stands six foot and weighs 190.

Left guard Dick Vaughn, 21, is another senior, Dick is from Hamtramck. He took over a big assignment last season when he

Touchball Action Starts

The Fraternity League will get intramural touchball underway this afternoon at 4 p.m. League games will be on Tuesday, except for this week when teams will play both today and Thursday.

The schedule for this week: Today—Oct. 4, 4 p.m.—Alpha Chi vs. Delta Pi Kappa

Delta Sigma Phi vs. Delta Phi Epsilon

5 p.m. — Upsilon Delta Sigma vs. Tuyere

Kappa Sigma Phi vs. Alpha Gamma

Thurs.—Oct. 6, 4 p.m.—Upsilon Delta Sigma vs. Alpha Gamma, Delta Sigma Phi vs. Kappa Sigma Kappa

5 p.m.—Delta Pi Kappa vs. Tuyere

Alpha Chi vs. Delta Phi Epsilon

More entries from clubs and organizations are needed before the Independent League can get underway. All students are invited to play.

Important! Holden and Reno Hall residents are reminded to turn in their entries this week for the Inter-Dorm League.

filled in for graduated Denny McCotter.

Although injured twice last season, Vaughn gave a good performance every game. He won his letter as a sophomore. Dick plans to enter Dental

LYNCH LOBKOVICH

School when he completes his pre-dental in June. Dick stands 5:11 and weighs 185.

Our two backfield men are quarterback Jim Lobbkovich and halfback Jim Lynch.

JIM LOBKOVICH, 21, is a senior majoring in Business Administration. His home is New Boston, Mich. He prepped at Mount Carmel in Wyandotte. Since coming to U-D he has changed from quarterback to half-back and finally ended at quarterback again. His passing record last season reads 45 passes attempted, 14 completed for a total of 224 yards and two touchdowns.

Jim stands 5:11 and weighs in at 190. This may prove to be his big season as he has passed for two touchdowns in his first two games.

Jim Lynch, 20, is a junior who is also majoring in Business Administration. He is a native of Erie, Pa. He has not only filled in well for Lee Riley as a running halfback but he also has done a commendable job at punting and points after touchdowns. Last year Jim had a 35.6 punting average and last Friday he scored one touchdown and added four extra points.

While he was a freshman he led the team in scoring. Jim is 5:10 and weighs 180.

It took a lot of determination on the part of the hapless Shockers to try to stop the Titan attack Friday night. Here, Halfback Jim Lynch fights his way for a ground gain.
